January 28, 2022

Good Afternoon ASD-N Families,

Late yesterday, the Province of New Brunswick announced that we will return to Level 2 of the province's pandemic recovery plan starting today, January 28th, at 11:59 p.m.

This means that all K-8 students will return to in-person learning on Monday, January 31st, and all high school students will return to start their second semester on Wednesday, February 2nd.

In addition, normal routines will be returning to all schools, i.e. bus transportation, etc. All on-line learning and/or teaching from home will end as of today.

One of the potential challenges, or impacts, that may arise with the return to in-person learning is that a higher percentage of staff may need to be absent on any given day, due to mandatory isolation requirements or other legitimate reasons. We currently have plans in place to try and ensure that all schools and classes remain open and safe for students. However, if a class cannot be covered by staff, it may be necessary to send students home for that day. Parents should prepare for this possible scenario.

The "Healthy and Safe Schools – School Winter Plans" have been updated and can be found on the ASD-N website under the COVID-19 Dashboard.

If you have questions, please contact your school directly.

We look forward to welcoming our students back to our schools next week!

Sincerely,

Mark Donovan
Superintendent
